Assignment - 4

Aim :
To design a user-friendly mobile application interface that helps users explore tourist destinations, search for flights and book tickets conviniently.

Theory :
The application helps users plan trips by providing destination search, flight booking, hotel reservations and travel recommendations. Users can explore popular places, compare flights and manage bookings through simple navigation and interactive features.

Conclusion :
The design simplifies travel planning by combining destination exploration, flight booking and travel services in one place. Its clear layout and easy navigations help users manage bookings easily.
